Robert,

Juan Carlos from Law360 here. Could you please send releases regarding the Gold King mine spill to me, in addition to any other Law360 reporters that have requested them?
Thanks.

Also, I am writing a story about the spill and I figured I would run a couple of questions by you.

I am wondering:

1. What is the name of the contracting company that the EPA had employed at the Gold King mine and caused the spill? I have read elsewhere that it was Lockheed Martin but want to confirm.

2. Has the EPA taken any action to compensate parties that may be harmed from the spill?
Or does the EPA plan to?

I think that does it for now.

Thanks.
